RE: Comments Submitted by the Office of the Michigan Information Network Pertaining to [C] Docket No. 02-6] Schools and Libraries Universal Service Support Mechanism

Dear Ms. Salas:

The purpose of this letter is to confirm to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) support by the Macomb Intermediate School District for the above referenced comments submitted to the FCC by the Office of the Michigan Information Network (MIN) as a collaborative effort with MIN, the Michigan Department of Education, the Library of Michigan, and other Michigan organizations involved in the E-rate program.

The Macomb Intermediate School District supports the statement expressed by MIN that in order to improve operations, ensure equitable distribution of program funds, prevent fraud, waste, and abuse and make working with the E-rate program easier and more convenient for all parties, some changes to program rules are definitely necessary. We concur with the MIN recommendations for changes to the administrative processes and rules as proposed in the above referenced comments to the FCC.

Even though schools in Michigan have benefited from the E-rate program over the past four years, many other schools, both public and private have been hindered from benefiting due to issues such as the lengthy, complicated and confusing application process and the inability to make changes that occur during the funding cycle through no control of the applicant (e.g., changes in service providers). The recommendations provided in the MIN comments document address some of these critical issues.

We hope the FCC will give serious consideration to making the recommended changes so that all schools and libraries will benefit from the E-rate program.

Sincerely,
